

Proposed Mediation (Scotland) Bill

Introduction

A proposal for a Bill to increase the use and consistency of mediation services for certain civil cases by establishing a new process of court-initiated mediation that includes an initial mandatory process involving a statutory duty mediator. The consultation runs from 29 May 2019 to 20 August 2019. All those wishing to respond to the consultation are strongly encouraged to enter their responses electronically through this survey. This makes collation of responses much simpler and quicker. However, the option also exists of sending in a separate response (in hard copy or by other electronic means such as e-mail), and details of how to do so are included in the member's consultation document. Questions marked with an asterisk (*) require an answer. All responses must include a name and contact details. Names will only be published if you give us permission, and contact details are never published – but we may use them to contact you if there is a query about your response. If you do not include a name and/or contact details, we may have to disregard your response. Please note that you must complete the survey in order for your response to be accepted. If you don't wish to complete the survey in a single session, you can choose "Save and Continue later" at any point. Whilst you have the option to skip particular questions, you must continue to the end of the survey and press "Submit" to have your response fully recorded. Please ensure you have read the consultation document before responding to any of the questions that follow. In particular, you should read the information contained in the document about how your response will be handled. Aim and approach

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of legislating to increase the use and consistency of mediation services for civil cases in Scotland?

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

Not only would a Mediation Act bring us up to date, in terms of the international legal stage, it would provide our country with the immense benefits that mediation provides, and unfortunately the legal system (as it currently stands) cannot offer.

Details of the proposal

Q2. Which of the following best expresses your view of requiring the parties to a civil court case (unless it is an excluded case) to complete a self-test questionnaire and attend a mandatory Mediation Information Session with a duty mediator?

Fully supportive

Q3. Which of the following cases (if any) do you agree should be excluded from the requirement to complete a self-test questionnaire and attend a Mediation Information Session (tick all that apply)?

proceedings relating to the Abusive Behaviour and Sexual Harm (Scotland) Act, the Domestic Abuse (Scotland) Act and any other proceedings relating to domestic abuse and sexual harassment cases any proceedings relating to civil actions for rape and other sexual offences

Q4. Which of the following best expresses your view of giving parties who agree to mediate access to a process that can lead to a Mediation Agreement and, where appropriate, a Mediation Settlement Agreement?

Fully supportive

Q5. Which of the following best expresses your view of giving the Scottish Ministers power to extend the mandatory part of the process (the self-test questionnaire and Mediation Information Session) so that it applies to potential litigants who are yet to go to court?

Fully supportive

Financial implications

Q6. Taking account of both costs and potential savings, what financial impact would you expect the proposed Bill to have on:

	Significant increase in cost	Some increase in cost	Broadly cost-neutral	Some reduction in cost	Significant reduction in cost	Unsure
(a) Government (including court services, legal aid etc.)			X
(b) Businesses		X
(c) Third Sector organisations		X
(d) Mediators and mediation organisations			X
(e) Individuals		X

Please explain the reasons for your response.

I think there will be great potential for costs to decrease for the individual, should mediation be fully embraced by both parties. I imagine the market, once inevitably saturated (should the Act come into place) will see the cost of mediation services level out and competitive rates will no doubt crop up.

Q7. Are there ways in which the Bill could achieve its aim more cost-effectively (e.g. by reducing costs or increasing savings)?

Not to my knowledge, this Bill seems the most effective way.

Equalities

Q8. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on equality, taking account of the following protected characteristics (under the Equality Act 2010): age, disability, gender re-assignment, maternity and pregnancy, marriage and civil partnership, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation?

Slightly negative

Please explain the reasons for your response.

Research shows that minority and under represented sections of society find it more difficult to find amicable solutions, that work to their advantage.

Q9. In what ways could any negative impact of the proposed Bill on equality be minimised or avoided?

Significant training and expectations placed on the mediators to ensure that this is always at the forefront of the discussion.

Sustainability

Q10. Do you consider that the proposed Bill can be delivered sustainably, i.e. without having likely future disproportionate economic, social and/or environmental impacts?

Yes

General

Q11. Do you have any other comments or suggestions on the proposal?
